

This was built for you.

PT Launch Lab was designed for career changers aged 25–35 — people coming from corporate offices, sales floors, and warehouse shifts who love fitness and are ready to turn that passion into a proper living. If you've been wondering whether there's a real way out, you're in exactly the right place.

You don't need experience in the fitness industry. You don't need to have worked in a gym. What you need is the drive to change direction and the willingness to do the work. PT Launch Lab handles everything else — the qualification, the knowledge, the business skills, and the mentorship to put it all together.

You hate Mondays

You dread Sunday evenings because you know what's coming. Another week doing work that drains you, not something that energises you. You've been telling yourself it'll get better — but deep down, you know it won't.

You feel stuck

You want out, but there are bills to pay. So you stay put, watching the months turn into years, waiting for the right moment that never comes. That moment isn't going to arrive on its own. You have to build it.

You know you're capable of more

You're not lazy. You're not unmotivated. You're just in the wrong place. You just need someone to show you there's a real way out — and a structured, proven path to walk down.

Three steps to a career you actually want.

We don't just get you qualified. We get you hired, earning, and building. Most PT courses hand you a certificate and wish you luck. PT Launch Lab is built around three distinct phases — each one designed to move you further than the last.

Step 01 — LEARN

Study online at your own pace, around your current job. Anatomy, nutrition, exercise science, client consultations, and behaviour change — everything you need to coach real people, safely and confidently. Delivered through the Merve learning app. No classrooms, no fixed hours.

Step 02 — QUALIFY

Earn your NCFE Level 2 & 3 Personal Training qualification — Ofqual regulated and recognised by every UK gym, employer, and insurance provider. Online and practical assessments, with continuous tutor support throughout. The same qualification the PT Launch Lab founders used to launch their own careers.

Step 03 — LAUNCH

Other courses stop once you pass. We don't. This is where PT Launch Lab is different. Business mentorship, client acquisition strategy, brand building, and proven systems to help you reach £3K, £5K and beyond per month as an independent PT.

Level 2 — Certificate in Gym Instructing

1	Anatomy and Physiology for Exercise Learn how the human body works — muscles, joints, the cardiovascular system, and how they respond to exercise. This is the science behind every session you'll ever deliver, taught in a way that actually makes sense. Unit ref: T/617/4001
2	Maximising the Customer Experience Understand what makes a great gym experience for members. Cover communication, professionalism, and how to build relationships that keep clients coming back. Your attitude and approach are just as important as your technical knowledge. Unit ref: A/617/4002
3	Supporting Client Health and Well-Being Learn how to screen clients, identify health considerations, and adapt your approach accordingly. Covers referral processes, lifestyle factors, and how to support long-term well-being — not just short-term results. Unit ref: D/617/4008
4	Client Consultations and Gym Inductions Master the art of the first session. Learn how to conduct professional consultations, understand client goals, carry out fitness assessments, and deliver a safe, effective gym induction that builds immediate trust. Unit ref: F/617/4003
5	Planning and Reviewing Exercise Programmes Learn how to design structured, progressive programmes tailored to individual client goals — whether that's fat loss, strength, cardiovascular fitness, or general health. Understand how to review and adapt plans over time. Unit ref: R/617/4006
6	Instructing and Supervising Exercise Programmes Put everything together. Learn how to coach clients through their programmes with correct technique, clear cueing, and confident supervision. Cover exercise modification, progression, and how to keep clients safe at all times. Unit ref: Y/617/4007

Level 3 — Diploma in Personal Training

1	Applied Anatomy and Physiology A deeper dive into the body. Cover energy systems, muscle fibre types, hormonal responses to exercise, and how to apply this knowledge to design smarter, more effective training programmes for a wide range of clients. Unit ref: D/617/1707
2	Client Motivation and Lifestyle Management Understand the psychology behind behaviour change. Learn how to keep clients motivated, help them build sustainable habits, and manage the lifestyle factors — sleep, stress, recovery — that determine whether they succeed or stall. Unit ref: H/617/1708
3	Programming Personal Training Sessions Learn how to design one-to-one PT sessions that are goal-specific, progressive, and professionally structured. Cover periodisation, session planning, client-specific adaptations, and how to build programmes that get real results. Unit ref: K/617/1709
4	Delivering Personal Training Sessions The practical side of being a PT. Cover session delivery, coaching communication, real-time feedback, and how to adapt on the fly. Learn what separates an average trainer from one clients won't stop recommending. Unit ref: D/617/1710
5	Nutrition to Support a Physical Activity Programme Learn the fundamentals of nutrition and how to use them to support your clients' goals. Cover macronutrients, energy balance, hydration, and how to give evidence-based nutritional guidance within your scope of practice. Unit ref: H/617/1711
6	Business Acumen for Personal Trainers The unit most courses rush. We don't. Cover how PTs actually make money — pricing, packages, client acquisition, retention, and building a sustainable income. The foundation of everything we build on in the business mentorship. Unit ref: K/617/1712

Other courses stop when you qualify. We don't.

The qualification is the foundation. What PT Launch Lab builds on top of it is what actually changes your life. Most training providers hand you a certificate and leave you to figure out the rest. We stay with you — because getting qualified is only the beginning of building a career.

Theory Online Learning

Everything covered in the 12 units is delivered through structured online learning — accessible on any device, at any time, via the Merve learning platform. Study around your job, your family, your life. Track your progress, pick up where you left off, and move at the pace that works for you.

Business Mentorship — Skool Platform

Once you're qualified, you get full access to our private Skool community — a complete library of business-building webinars, training videos, and resources built specifically for independent PTs. Monthly live calls keep you accountable and up to date with what's working right now.

Direct Mentorship from Miles, Callum & Ryan

Not a support ticket. Not a chatbot. Real mentorship from three people who've built PT businesses from the ground up. They've hired 500+ trainers across their gyms and partnerships — when they tell you what gyms look for, it's because they're the ones doing the hiring.

What you'll cover in the mentorship

- How to find and convert your first clients
- Building your brand on social media
- Setting your pricing and packages
- Online PT vs in-person PT — and how to build both
- Proven systems to reach £3K, £5K and beyond per month
- How to get your guaranteed gym interview and land the role

We've been where you are.

Three people. A combined 50+ years in the fitness industry. Every lesson in PT Launch Lab comes from lived experience — not a textbook. The founders didn't just study this industry. They built careers in it, made mistakes in it, and found what actually works inside it. That's what they're passing on to you.

What makes PT Launch Lab different isn't the qualification — though that's fully accredited and industry-recognised. It's the people behind it. When Callum talks about career changes, he's lived one. When Ryan talks about scaling a PT business to £500K, he's done it. When Miles talks about what gym owners want from PTs, he's spent decades being one. That combination of perspectives is what no textbook-led course can replicate.

CO-FOUNDER & HEAD OF EDUCATION

Callum Brown

Callum's path into fitness wasn't a straight line. He moved from job to job, trade to trade, before deciding that Personal Training was where he was meant to be. That experience of not quite fitting anywhere else is exactly what makes him understand the people PT Launch Lab is built for. He knows what it feels like to be in the wrong career — and he knows how to get out of it.

On the gym floor, he built a strong, loyal client base from the ground up. He then moved into PT education — becoming a qualified educator in Personal Training qualifications and working closely with the UK's top student finance providers to understand how people fund their training. That combination of lived experience, education, and industry knowledge is what he now teaches.

Callum doesn't just show people how to qualify. He shows them how to build a career that actually lasts. He's the one who will be with you throughout — answering questions, offering guidance, and making sure you never feel like just another student on a list.

"I moved between jobs for years before PT clicked. Now I help others make that same leap — just faster and with a clearer path."

CO-FOUNDER & BUSINESS MENTOR

Ryan

Ryan has 17 years on the gym floor and a career that most PTs only dream of. As a professional boxer, he built the kind of discipline and mental edge that translated directly into how he trains clients and runs a business. That background isn't just a talking point — it shaped his entire approach to building something that lasts.

He founded Ultimate Shred — an online PT business he scaled to over £500,000 in revenue as an independent personal trainer. No gym brand behind him. No big marketing budget. Just the right systems, the right offer, and the drive to build something real. He's done what he teaches, which is the only kind of mentor worth listening to.

At PT Launch Lab, Ryan is the mentor who's been through it. The self-doubt, the quiet months, the breakthrough moments. He tells it straight, shares what actually worked, and keeps students accountable to building something that pays them. If you want to know what it really takes to earn a serious income as a PT, Ryan is the person to ask.

"I scaled to £500K as an independent PT. No gym brand. No shortcuts. Just the right systems — and I'll show you exactly what they are."

Miles

Thirty years in the fitness industry gives you a perspective nobody can teach. Miles has seen this industry from every angle — from corporate management to owning his own chain of gyms, running large teams of Personal Trainers and coaches day in, day out. He has hired, trained, developed, and occasionally let go of more PTs than most people will ever meet.

He's been on both sides of the hiring table hundreds of times. He knows what separates the PTs who build long careers from the ones who disappear after six months. He knows what gym owners actually want, what clients stay loyal to, and what no qualification on its own will ever teach you. That knowledge is priceless — and it's built into every part of PT Launch Lab.

Miles brings the long view to PT Launch Lab. When something sounds good in theory but won't work in practice, he says so. His 30+ years mean students get the wisdom of three decades compressed into a programme that actually prepares them for what's waiting. This isn't theoretical. This is the real world — and Miles has been living in it longer than most.

"Thirty years tells you a lot about what works and what doesn't. I built PT Launch Lab to give students what I wish I'd had at the start."

Student Success Story

"Gemma left corporate life behind and retrained through PT Launch Lab. Now she runs her own PT business, works on her own terms, and helps people transform their lives every day."

— Gemma, Former Corporate Professional

Could this be you?

Gemma's story isn't unusual. It's what happens when someone with the drive to change direction gets the right qualification, the right mentorship, and the right support structure behind them.

The only difference between where you are now and where Gemma is today is one decision. PT Launch Lab is built to make that decision as straightforward and risk-free as possible.

Fully accredited. Industry recognised.

Your NCFE Level 2 & 3 PT qualification is regulated by Ofqual and recognised by CIMSPA and REPs — the gold standard for UK fitness professionals. Accepted by every gym and insurance provider in the UK. This isn't a certificate you print at home. It's the real thing — the same qualification that opens doors at every major gym group in the country.

When you walk into a job interview or approach your first client, you do so with the full weight of UK-regulated fitness education behind you. No employer will question it. No insurance provider will turn it down. That's the point. We built this course around a qualification that the industry actually respects, because anything less would be doing you a disservice.

NCFE

Nationally recognised awarding organisation with decades of educational excellence behind every qualification they issue.

Ofqual Regulated

Regulated by the Office of Qualifications and Examinations Regulation. This is what makes your qualification legally recognised and industry-valid across the UK.

CIMSPA

Chartered Institute for the Management of Sport and Physical Activity. The professional body that sets the standard for UK fitness careers.

REPs

The Register of Exercise Professionals. Membership is required or expected by most UK gyms and insurance providers. Your qualification gets you listed.

What are you waiting for?

Every week you wait is another week in a job you don't want. Your qualification, your clients, and your freedom are on the other side of one decision. The people who've already gone through PT Launch Lab didn't wait for the perfect moment — they made the decision, got started, and built something worth having.

You've read the prospectus. You know what the course covers. You know who's behind it and what they've built. You know the qualification is the real thing and that the mentorship goes further than anything else out there. The only question left is whether you're ready to do something about the job you're in.
